

NEWS

Jim Reiss
Vice President, Agricultural Business
(800) 323-6280

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Precision Laboratories Hires Three

Waukegan, IL, January 29, 2004 – The Agriculture Division of Precision Laboratories, Inc. today announced that it has made three additions to its sales force, effective immediately.

Sean Lynch has been hired as the Agricultural Sales Manager for Precision. In this newly created position, Lynch will be responsible for implementing the company's strategic marketing plan, introducing new products and managing the national retail sales network. Lynch is a demonstrated sales and leadership professional who most recently served as the Business Coach for the Northeast sales team of Monsanto's dairy business. Prior to that he held positions with Novartis Crop Protection and Sandoz Agro, Inc.

David Bray will be the District Sales Manager for the state of Missouri. He is the former Location Manager for Terra Industries, Inc. and has served in positions with Griffin Ag Products and United Agri Products.

Gary Gastineau will be the District Sales Manager for Indiana and Western Michigan. He formerly worked as the Mideast District Manager for Paulaner-North America Corporation and as the District Manager for Sazerac Company, Inc.

Lynch will be based out of Precision's corporate headquarters in Waukegan, IL. Bray and Gastineau will report to Lynch and be based in Missouri and Indiana respectively.

Precision Laboratories, Inc. is a manufacturer and marketer of best-of-class adjuvants, application enhancement technologies and seed protection products that include fungicides, colorants, coatings and inoculants.

###